

[\[Jump to photo gallery\]](#) Collecting and using vintage costumes is part of the fun of vintage pinup. Over the years we have amassed quite a good collection of vintage costumes. In fact, there are far more outfits than we can possibly get through in a single shoot. Some of them are quite old and valuable too.

Many of them are girdles or corsets, or have been derived from various forms of corsetry. These are designed to mould and flatter the model's figure. This creates a shapely hourglass silhouette that is reminiscent of late fifties and early sixties Hollywood pinups.

The following images are an example of what is available. However it is a relatively small selection and new costumes are being added all the time.
